The University of Arizona
Two, Four and Six-Year Graduation Rates
New, Full-Time International Undergraduate Transfer Students

The graph shows the graduation rates for new, full-time international undergraduate transfer students at the University of Arizona for different time periods and graduation intervals (2, 4, and 6 years). The percentage of students graduating within these intervals is plotted over the years from 1994 to 2009. The data indicates fluctuations in graduation rates over the years, with variations in the rates for each graduation interval.
